SEPTEMBER 2010

A word about our ingredients:

The world's best whole wheat bread starts with the world's best wheat, grown on the high plains of north-central Montana. Each morning we stone-grind this wheat into fresh whole-wheat flour!

The best whole wheat bread doesn't need a lot of ingredients...in fact the less, the better! We use just FIVE pure and simple ingredients: fresh stone-ground flour, water, honey, fresh yeast, and salt...that's it!

What we don't use in our bread is just as important: we never use additives, preservatives, chemicals, dough conditioners, or anything else that doesn't belong in your food. Most of our breads are baked without oils of any kind. You can count on the highest quality, all-natural ingredients in all of our products!

September is Apple Season

And we're having a harvest of apple breads to celebrate!
